Glossary

Names in parentheses indicate a moment when a character is singing not as themselves but as part of an ensemble.

Note on singing style

The piece makes use of a mixture of recitativo and arioso singing styles. The singers should move freely between these approaches to singing as the music and the drama suggests it. In scenes 1-3 during recitativo singing, the singers should be pushing ahead of the beat, giving the music a constant forward motion and urgency. In scenes 13-16 the recitativo styles is given an increased level of freedom for the performer. The use of noteheads without stems indicates that the singer should sing in a natural speech within the bars and tempo of the music, but not tied to a specified rhythm, this is a time space notation.

Score in C

MACBETH

Scene 1

Fast ( $\text{♩} = 110$  approx.)

The musical score consists of ten staves, each representing a different instrument or group of instruments. The instruments are:

- Flute (top staff)
- Oboe (second staff)
- Clarinet in B $\flat$  (third staff)
- Trumpet in B $\flat$  (fourth staff)
- Tenor Trombone (fifth staff)
- Percussion 1 (sixth staff)
- Percussion 2 (seventh staff)
- Harp (eighth staff)
- Piano (ninth staff)
- Violin (bottom staff)
- Violoncello (second bottom staff)
- Contrabass (third bottom staff)

The score is set in common time (indicated by a '4'). The tempo is marked as 'Fast' with  $\text{♩} = 110$  approx. The instrumentation includes woodwind instruments (Flute, Oboe, Clarinet), brass instruments (Trumpet, Tenor Trombone), two types of percussion (Percussion 1, Percussion 2), and strings (Harp, Piano, Violin, Violoncello, Contrabass). The score features dynamic markings such as  $\text{sffz}$ ,  $\text{ff}$ ,  $\text{mf}$ , and  $\text{ff}$ . Specific rhythmic patterns are indicated with '3' over groups of notes and '8'' above a series of eighth-note strokes.

LMcd.

Porter: Here's a knocking indeed! If a man were porter of hell-gate, he should have old turning the key.

Porter: Anon, anon! I pray you, remember the porter.

578

Mcd.

— That you do lie — so late?

What three things does drink es - peci-al-ly pro-voke?

Porter: Faith sir, we were carousing till the second cock: and drink, sir, is a great provoker of three things.

LMcd.

Mcd.

Porter: Marry, sir, nose-painting, sleep, and urine. Lechery, sir it provokes, and unprovokes: it provokes the desire, but it takes away the performance: Therefore much drink may be said to be an equivocator with lechery: it makes him and it mars him; it sets him on and it takes him off; it persuades him and disheartens him; makes him stand to and not stand to: in conclusion, equivocates him in a sleep, and, giving him the lie, leaves him.

46

I be-lieve drink gave thee the lie last night.

Porter: That it did, sir, i' the very throat on me: but I requited him for his lie, and, I think, being too strong for him, though he took up my legs sometime, yet I made a shift to cast him.

Musical score for measures 1279-1280. The score includes parts for Tpt. (Trumpet), Tbn. (Bassoon), Perc. 1 (Field Drum), and Perc. 2 (Snare Drum). Measure 1279 starts with a rest for Tpt. and Tbn., followed by a dynamic instruction 'ff' for Perc. 1. Measure 1280 begins with a dynamic 'ff' for Perc. 1, followed by a rest for Tpt. and Tbn.

Musical score for orchestra and percussion section. The score includes parts for Tpt. (Trumpet), Tbn. (Bassoon), Perc.1 (Percussion 1), and Perc.2 (Percussion 2). The page number 1281 is at the top left. The score consists of four systems of music. The first system shows Tpt. and Tbn. playing eighth-note patterns with dynamic markings > f and cresc. The second system shows the same instruments continuing their patterns. The third system shows Perc.1 playing a continuous eighth-note pattern. The fourth system shows Perc.2 playing a continuous eighth-note pattern. Measure numbers 1, 2, and 3 are indicated above the measures. Time signatures change between common time and 2/4 throughout the score.
