Usk Edition, London 1983, 1990

from Psalm 88:

O Lord God of my salvation, I have cried day and night before thee. Let my prayer come before thee: incline thine ear unto my cry; For my soul is full of troubles: and my life draweth nigh unto the grave. I am counted with them that go down into the pit: I am as a man that hath no strength: Free among the dead, like the slain that lie in the grave, whom thou rememberest no more. Shall thy lovingkindness be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulness in destruction? Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? and thy righteousness in the land of forgetfulness? Thy fierce wrath goeth over me; thy terrors have cut me off. They came round about me daily like water, they compassed me about together. Lover and friend hast thou put far from me, and mine acquaintance into darkness.

from Psalm 121:

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved; he that keepeth thee will not slumber. The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand. The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night. The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul. The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.

Notes.

1. The keyboard part is at times a reduction of the chorus parts, and as such may be performed as discreet accompaniment in its entirety or at selected places. In this function it is indicated 'reduc.' in the score.
Elsewhere the keyboard part is an independent and obligatory organ part, indicated as 'org.' in the score. It has been written for an instrument without pedals and may be played on a digital or pipe organ equally satisfactorily. The timbres envisaged include 2' and mixture stops where bright or substantial sound is called for.
2. Flats and sharps apply only to the note immediately following.
3. Parts of words in curved brackets [e.g. Lor(d), co(meth), (righ)t,] should not be enunciated.
4. An arrow between vowel sounds or consonants is an indication to change the enunciation gradually over the time [e.g. T & B, bb114–116].
5. m – indicates humming; u – as in 'too'.
6. In 'free' sections [e.g. S, bb 78–86; S & A, bb 214–222; A & T, bb 261–281] no more voices should be used than are consistent with clarity.
7. The number of voices singing any given part may be reasonably adjusted in consideration of balance and texture.

The settings of each psalm may be performed separately – see p. 15.

duration c.14 minutes (Ps. 88: c.5'30"; Ps. 121: c.8'30")

A handwritten musical score for five voices (Soprano I, Soprano II, Alto, Tenor, Bass) on five-line staves. The music is in common time. The vocal parts are labeled on the left of each staff. The score includes lyrics such as 'moved:', '[u]', 'that', 'not slum-', 'keepeth thee will not slumber.', and 'slumber.'. There are various musical markings including dynamic changes, accidentals (sharps), and performance instructions like 'gliss.' and '#ber.' (indicating a melodic line with sustained notes). Measure numbers 22, 168, and 170 are visible at the top and bottom of the page respectively. A large blue watermark reading 'Preview File Only' is diagonally across the center of the page.
